Important things you need to know about your insurance before you travel

Health conditions

This Insurance contains conditions relating to your health, the health of people travelling with you and the health of others who might not be travelling with you, but on whose health the trip may depend (this would include a relative or a business associate). In particular, we do not cover claims arising from medical problems which you or they had before the cover started. Please see general exclusion number 1 on page 7 for further details.

If there is a change in the state of health of yourself, anyone travelling with you, a relative or business associate occurring after you have bought this insurance but before you travel, and upon whom your trip depends, you must contact AIG Customer Service immediately on 1800 303 102 or e-mail boitravel.ie@aig.com

We have the right to alter the terms of cover in line with the change in risk.

Health agreements

If you are travelling to a country in the European Union, you should take a European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) with you. Application forms to obtain an EHIC are available from your local Health Office or you can download an application form from the following website: www.ehic.ie. This entitles European citizens to benefit from the health agreements which exist between countries in the European Union/ EEA. If you are travelling to Australia or New Zealand and you need medical treatment, you should enrol with Medicare or the equivalent scheme of these countries. Further information is available from the following website: www.medicareaustralia.gov.au

If you present your EHIC to the treating doctor or hospital if you need medical treatment within the European Union or you enrol with Medicare when travelling to Australia or New Zealand, this will save you paying the excess under section B1 (Medical and other expenses outside of the Republic of Ireland) if your medical costs are reduced as a result of using your EHIC or Medicare being involved.

Residency

You and all other persons insured on this insurance must have lived in the Republic of Ireland for at least six of the last 12 months before you bought or renewed this insurance.

If the delay is more than 5 hours, the airline must offer to refund your ticket. The Regulations should apply to all flights, whether budget, chartered or scheduled, originating in the EU, or flying into the EU using an EU carrier.

If your flight is delayed or cancelled due to a natural catastrophe, you must in the first instance approach your airline and clarify with them what costs they will pay under the Regulation.

If you would like to know more about your rights under this Regulation, additional useful information can be found on the Irish Aviation Authority website (www.iaa.ie).

If, once you have left the Republic of Ireland and before the end of the period of insurance, you decide you want to extend your insurance, please contact AIG Customer Service. Extensions can usually only be considered if there has been no change in your health (or that of a relative or business associate), you are not waiting for a claim to be settled and you do not know of a reason for a claim to arise. However, should there have been a change in health or a claim arose under the original insurance then we may still be able to consider the extension provided full details are passed to AIG Customer Service for consideration.
