

Additional cardholder application form

Share the convenience, enjoy the flexibility

Why adding additional cardholders makes sense

- ▶ There's no extra cost – you can add up to three additional cardholders to your account at no extra cost. This means you can give your spouse/partner, son or daughter a credit card each and they can avail of all the benefits a Bank of Ireland credit card offers too.
- ▶ It saves you money – you may have three additional cardholders but you'll still pay just one Government stamp duty fee of €30 every year, that's a potential saving of up to €90. This assumes that you apply for three additional cards instead of your family members opening three new credit card accounts.
- ▶ It's simple to manage - you'll still get just one statement each month detailing all transactions. The principle cardholder remains solely liable for all transactions made and charges incurred by additional cardholders. Additional cardholders do not receive credit card account statements but can make balance and transaction enquiries via 1890 251 251. Additional cardholders cannot use 365 online or 365 phone services.
- ▶ It's easy to set up – simply complete the form overleaf and submit along with the relevant identification documents (if required) to your local Bank of Ireland branch.
