

Switching your personal current account using the Switching Code

Bank of Ireland

Before we get started here are some top tips to keep in mind when switching:

- ▶ Pick your switch date at a quiet time on your account when little or no bills or payments are due.
- ▶ Remember to confirm whether or not you want to keep your old account open or to close it.
- ▶ Make sure your old account has a credit balance- if it is overdrawn we cannot complete the switch.
- ▶ Remember if you intend to keep your old account open, please note that all active direct debits and standing orders will be transferred to your new current account.
- ▶ Make sure you leave enough funds in both the new and old accounts to meet any incoming debts including standing orders, direct debits, cheques, interest, fees and charges. If you have requested that your old account is closed, the closing balance will automatically transfer over to your new account.
- ▶ If you have decided to close your old account, do not use the associated debit cards or cheque book to that account once the switch has started. Cheques presented on your old account will be returned as unpaid and will not be forwarded to your new bank.
- ▶ If you are closing your old account we recommend that you return or destroy any unused cheques or debit cards.
- ▶ Make sure you contact all your direct debit originators to double check that your new account details have been correctly updated.
- ▶ If some of your Direct Debit Originators are not based in the Republic of Ireland you'll need to contact these directly providing the new account details.
- ▶ Let people know your new debit card details for any outgoing payments made by debit card. For example, gym memberships, film and music streaming subscriptions.
- ▶ Remember to provide your new account details to your employer to ensure your salary is paid into your new account. Re-direct any other regular payments into your new account e.g. child benefits, share dividends etc.

Switching to us using the switching code

At Bank of Ireland we make the switching process as straightforward as possible so that you can enjoy banking with us straight away.

The switching process starts on the date you indicate on your account transfer form. Remember to choose a date where the activity on your account is low i.e. no payments are due out. Under the Code of Conduct on the Switching of Payment Accounts with Payment Service Providers 2016, the old bank (where you have your existing account) must ensure that all steps are taken to facilitate moving your account within 7 working days of the switch date and the new bank must ensure that all steps are taken to switch to your new account within 10 working days of your chosen switch date.

Follow this step by step guide to switching:

Step 1- Open your new Bank of Ireland current account

You can apply for your current account here: Features & Benefits - Personal Current Account - Bank of Ireland

To get started you'll need:

- ▶ Your passport or driving license card (UK or Ireland only)
- ▶ A selfie
- ▶ Proof of your address (e.g. utility bill, revenue document)

Once your account is opened and you receive your IBAN by SMS, we will then send you an SMS with instructions on how to register your account for Banking 365. Do this at your earliest convenience for fast and convenient banking services at your fingertips 24/7.

Alternatively you can call our Account Opening Team on 0818 200 374 and we will help you choose the right current account for you.

If you already have a Bank of Ireland current account, you can skip this step.

Step 2 - Start the switch

Complete the digital account transfer form online at digital.bankofireland.com/current-accounts/personal-account-switching, confirming the date you want your account to be switched from your "old" bank over to Bank of Ireland.

Alternatively you can print this document and fill in the forms enclosed and drop these into your nearest branch.

When filling out the account transfer form you will be asked to:

- ▶ Pick your switch start date, allowing at least five working days for the switch form to be received by your "old" bank. Choose a switch date during a quiet period, where there is low or no activity on your old account. If there is a lot of activity i.e. payments coming in or out, on your old account during the 10 day switching period after your chosen switch date, your old bank may reject the switch and you will need to start again.
- ▶ Choose whether or not you would like your old account to be closed by choosing option A or option B.

Option A

Switch your personal current account to Bank of Ireland including all standing orders and direct debits and close your old current account. If you are switching from a "Basic bank account" you must select for your old account to be closed as you are not allowed to hold a basic bank account and another payment account at any one time.

OR

Option B

Keep your old account open with your old bank and only switch your active standing orders and direct debits to your new bank.

We will then send your completed form to your old bank who will:

- ▶ Close your old account (option A only)
- ▶ Send you a list of your direct debits and standing orders
- ▶ Send us your closing balance (only if you have requested to close the account)
- ▶ Send us standing order details
- ▶ Notify the Direct Debit originators of your new account details*

*Please note that some Direct Debit originators do not accept Direct Debit instructions from 3rd parties. In this instance your "old" bank is considered a 3rd party. It is very important that you personally contact your Direct Debit originators to ensure that your Direct Debit details have been updated to avoid any missed payments.

What's the difference between a Standing order, a Direct Debit and a reoccurring card payment?

A Standing Order is an automatic regular payment where the amount is fixed. You can set up a standing order and only you can make changes to it such as a change in the date it is paid or the payment amount. This can all be managed on your Banking 365.

A Direct Debit is an agreement between you and the organisation that you are paying, which gives them permission to take money out of your account at regular intervals. The organisation will set this up and they can alter the amount on your instruction. Direct Debits are mainly used for paying bills such as electricity, gas, phone etc. If you wish to cancel a Direct Debit, you need to contact the organisation directly.

A reoccurring card payment is used mainly for subscription like services. This is where you have given your card details to a company and have agreed for them to deduct a set amount from your account at regular intervals. Many gym payments, streaming services, charity payments etc. are set up this way. In some cases, when your card expires you will need to provide your new card details for these payments to continue. Please remember to double check with your providers that your payment details are correct so as not to miss payments.

Step 3 - Let people know your new account details to ensure that payments you receive are lodged to the correct account

- ▶ Let your employer know your new bank details
- ▶ Re-direct any other regular payments into your new account for example, child benefit payments, share dividends, rental income etc. We will provide you with sample letters to help you with this.

Step 4- Ensure your bills are paid in time

Check the list of existing standing order and/ or Direct debits that your "old" bank sent to you. Let us know if you want to make any changes to your standing orders, you can also do this through Banking 365. To change or cancel Direct Debits you must contact your provider (Direct Debit originator) directly.

Step 5- Complete the Switch

We will lodge the balance to your new account (Option A only) and set up your standing orders (Option A&B) on your new account.

How to make a complaint

We're committed to providing you with excellent service at all times and hope we do not give you grounds to complain. However, if you wish to make a complaint you may do so in a number of ways. You can call or write to us, avail of our online complaints form, and advise our branch teams. Our website www.bankofireland.com/help-centre/customer-complaints-process provides further details about these channels and our complaint process.
